IN THE
COURT OF APPEALS
STATE OF ARIZONA
DIVISION ONE

IN THE MATTER OF SENATE BILL 1001, ABOLISHING ARIZONA'S CHILD PROTECTIVE SERVICES and CREATING the DEPARTMENT OF CHILD SAFETY.	)	Administrative Order No. 2014-02

On May 26, 2014, Governor Jan Brewer signed S.B. 1001, 51st Leg., 2nd Spec. Session (Arizona 2014) abolishing Arizona's Child Protective Services (CPS) and creating a new Department of Child Safety (DCS) as a stand-alone agency to manage the state's services to family of alleged abused or neglected children.

Consequently, in all appeals from juvenile court matters in which ADES was a party, it is appropriate to substitute DCS in ADES's stead.

DCS will be listed as appropriate in captions of pleadings filed after May 29, 2014. Captions created prior to May 29, shall be amended and a footnote added to indicate the substitution of the new DCS as the appropriate party to the appeal.
