Judge Conlogue Selected to Receive Award

Presiding Judge of the Superior Court in Cochise County, Judge James L. Conlogue, has been selected as an honoree for the eighth annual Arizona News Service/Arizona Capitol Times Leaders of the Year in Public Policy award. Judge Conlogue will be honored in the category of Public Safety on Tuesday, September 16th at a reception at The Phoenician in Scottsdale, AZ.

Judge Conlogue has a long and distinguished history serving the bench in Cochise County. He began his service in 1995 as a Pro Tem Judge and became a Superior Court Judge when Division V was created in 2009. He pioneered and was the founder of the Early Resolution Court in 2009. He also spearheaded the court's first strategic planning process. Judge Conlogue is a visionary leader who is able to bring people together, seeking the very best for the court, those who work with the court, and the community at large.
