Cochise County Judge Tim Dickerson Selected as Justice of the Peace of the Year

Judge Tim Dickerson was selected as Justice of the Peace of the Year by the Arizona Justice of the Peace Association. The presentation was made on September 10, 2014, at the Association's conference in Prescott. The annual selection is made from the justices nominated by their peers and evaluated on the factors of leadership, furthering judicial education, public relations, and charitable works. The citation presented to Dickerson read: "This award recognizes your commitment to the judicial system, acknowledging your leadership skills, your willingness to educate others and your volunteerism."

Judge Dickerson has served as Justice of the Peace in the Sierra Vista Justice Court, Precinct 5, since 2003. He is serving his second elected two year term as Cochise County Presiding Justice of the Peace. He has served on a total of nine Arizona Supreme Court committees, writes a monthly column for the Sierra Vista Herald and is active in the community.
