Commission on Judicial Conduct

Case #: D2010

Witnesses: Only hostile in the courtroom

I requested and was granted a Divorce Decree Modification hearing, I thought. I read the docket: Status Conference. Judge begins to ask the petitioners' attorney questions: "Is it a duplex or triplex, I get confused?" Now I know there's a problem. I was the one that requested the hearing, I'm the one that has managed the property for twenty three years, has been my home for eight years.

Everything that came out of the petitioners' attorneys mouth was a half truth or untruth (that's another talk show). I was less than impressed with Judge demeanor: A raised voice "you just admitted" – I felt as though I was on trial for a capital crime. My mention of a quick claim deed was a point in reference. The contempt in her eye, as though I didn't have a right to be in the courtroom I had a right to be in that courtroom. I know what Judge thought (not that I'm a mind reader). I found Judge behavior disturbing.

Judge made it a point to mention my hand written letter. It's how she mentioned it. There was reason for the hand written letter.

There were major changes in circumstances, Judge didn't have the time. And it is possible to make changes that deals with property. I believe Judge thought I was wasting her time.

.The Modification hearing wasn't for me, apparently. It was the plaintiffs attorney, Michael Douglas Miller. I don't know if Judge thought I was stupid or deaf. Michael Douglas Miller asked for a modification on the OOP. Judge nodded her head as she said something under her breath. I couldn't hear most of what they were saying during this twenty two minute hearing. For those of you that read this letter and do not understand OOP: Order Of Protection. Under police advisement, I went before Judge Lisa Abrams and was granted an OOP after the petitioner broke into my space (7/6/11) I was advised previously (6/22/10) by TPD to request an OOP after I noticed valuables (jewelry, antique silver, 7 years of tax records) missing. I wonder who advised the plaintiff to remove those items under Judge court order. That was under Judge watch. Does a court order apply only to the Respondent,

Apparently.

Judge allowed the court jest (Michael Douglas Miller) to come towards me (for a moment I thought he was going to assault me) and pointing. No doubt to impress his client. At one point I was speaking and the court jest holds his hands high in the air, pointing at fingers and made a comment. Evidently, Judge didn't have a problem with that You may think it's cute. I found it disgusting. I resent the tone in which Judge spoke to me.

I'll step down three or four rungs on this ladder of vocab.(or lack of) to judge level (in Family Court, mind ya). "I know you got screwed." I didn't get screwed, I got raped.

I pay well over the majority for bills, yet my ex wife made 5X the amount I had coming in om the Ats.
I will not let this go away. I'll continue to write and someone will listen. Shame on Judge

My twenty plus years of volunteering includes a couple years with Operation

Welcome to America.

Awaiting your response, I remain....
