Disposition of Complaint 14-225

Judge:

Complainant:

ORDER

The complainant alleged a superior court judge was corrupt.

The responsibility of the Commission on Judicial Conduct is to impartially determine if the judge engaged in conduct that violated the provisions of Article 6.1 of the Arizona Constitution or the Code of Judicial Conduct and, if so, to take appropriate disciplinary action. The purpose and authority of the commission is limited to this mission.

After review, the commission found no evidence of ethical misconduct and concluded that the judge did not violate the Code in this case. Accordingly, the complaint is dismissed in its entirety, pursuant to Rules 16(a) and 23.

was done off the record, in which engaged in — unethical practices, misleading me, making false promises of a lower sentence, asking me to give up property in exchange for a lower sentence, ^{and} embarking on conduct not proper or appropriate for a judge. It is common knowledge within the prison system that is a crooked judge, and a lot of inmates are ignorant of the law, and don't even realize they got shafted in her courtroom. If your commission launched an in-depth investigation into her past criminal cases, you'll discover a lot of illegal unethical activities transpiring in off the record sessions, where she misleads defendants, betrays public trust, takes advantage of defendants, makes false promises, using any technique by any means, to get defendants to sign pleas, then she gives them harsh prison sentences. It is the responsibility of your commission to keep the Arizona judicial system in a honorable place of truth and justice. Judge is an impatient person, and if a case drags out too long, she resorts from Arizona law, to law, and becomes a philosophical vigilante, to end that case by any means, even if it's illegal tactics, and arrogantly she does this thinking she will never get caught, because she turns off the electronic recorder, and tells her stenographer to stop recording. But I'm sure there's evidence from slips in behaviour, or forgetting to turn off the recorder, or engaging again on record things that were off the record ten minutes or so before, people make mistakes. The bible says that anything done in darkness, will be brought into the light. I hope you will investigate
