ORDER

The complainant alleged a superior court judge told him not to come to court again.

After review, the commission found no evidence of ethical misconduct and concluded that the judge did not violate the Code in this case. Accordingly, the complaint is dismissed in its entirety, pursuant to Rules 16(a) and 23(a).

Questioning the constitutional ground for the legal advice provided by the Judge stating not coming to Court never again. It confused me.

In a Courtroom in session, how that type of advice should be taken? Is not a Constitutional right? Is not in (judiciary) Courts where citizens can present and resolve impartially our grievances and offenses? What is left then?
