IRC STATEMENT OF INTEREST

William B Kaehler

08/12/2020

I have had an ongoing interest in current events and national/local politics since 1964, a period of 56 years. During most of these years I was a full-time employee in the banking and local government sectors. I avidly kept up with current events through reading, television and the internet but did not have the time to devote to being active at ground level. Now I have that time.

I have always known that gerrymandering was standard practice for decades. However, I never really thought the practice was truly democratic for the constituents in districts where it was almost impossible for a candidate from one political party or the other to win. In effect, it left many constituents with no real voice in the election process in heavily gerrymandered districts.

As a Redistricting Commissioner, I would work towards compromises for these districts where the winner was almost a foregone conclusion by virtue of how district boundaries were defined.
