

Raising the Bar: High-Quality Legal Representation for Children and Youth in Arizona

P R E S E N T E R S

Jillian Aja, Esq.

Jillian Aja is the Assistant Chief Counsel of the Pima County Office of Children's Counsel, where she has represented children in dependency cases for almost eleven years. Jillian is also the State Coordinator for Arizona for the National Association of Counsel for Children.

Allison Green, Esq.

Allison Green is the Legal Director at the National Association of Counsel for Children, where she manages the organization's policy advocacy and provides technical assistance to child welfare practitioners nationwide. Previously, she served as a Foster America Fellow at Missouri's Children's Division and as Senior Supervising Attorney at the Children's Law Center of Washington, D.C. Allison is an experienced trainer on a variety of topics and a certified Child Welfare Law Specialist (CWLS).

William Owsley, Esq.

William Owsley received his B.S. degree from Arizona State University and his J.D. degree from the University of Arizona. Mr. Owsley has practiced almost exclusively in the area of juvenile law for the past fifteen years. He is currently the Deputy Division Chief in the Dependency Unit of the Office of the Legal Advocate. The responsibility of the Office of the Legal Advocate is to represent children in dependency, severance and guardianship proceedings in Maricopa County. Prior to becoming a Deputy Legal Advocate, Mr. Owsley was the Unit Chief in the Protective Services Section, Child and Family Protection Division, of the Office of the Attorney General in Phoenix, Arizona. The responsibility of the Protective Services Section is to represent Child Protective Services in dependency, severance and guardianship proceedings in Arizona.