About Rising Youth Theatre

Rising Youth Theatre is a professional theatre company based in Phoenix that creates socially relevant original plays with youth and professional artists. Founded in 2011 by Sarah Sullivan and Xanthia Walker, the company offers young people the opportunity to participate in the arts in a unique way, using a youth development model to increase their potential for personal growth. As an organization, RYT believes that when youth participate in the creative process they become engaged, passionate citizens of their community and advocates on their own behalf.
