Both of us understand the rules regarding proxy designations as stated below:

1. The “proxy” is a delegate of the committee member and, in that capacity, carries the same responsibility as does the member whom the proxy represents, and the proxy will be counted to comprise a quorum;
2. It is the responsibility of the proxy delegate to prepare for the meeting by acquiring and reviewing materials to be discussed prior to the meeting, and the committee member must ensure that all materials received prior to the meeting are given to the proxy;
3. It is the responsibility of the proxy delegate to consider additional information presented at the meeting by staff and others, as well as the information derived from the discussion of issues by the committee, prior to exercising a proxy vote on an issue;
4. The use of proxies by members of the committee is limited to extraordinary circumstances as determined by the Chair.
