Each probation department shall provide, in writing to each intensive probation team, the minimum intensive supervision requirements established for intensive probationers incarcerated in jail and furnish training on adherence to those requirements.

3. The probation department shall establish supervision guidelines that are directed toward achieving desired outcomes that include, but are not limited to the reduction of the offender recidivism and criminogenic factors and will ensure that the majority of intensive probation supervision resources are dedicated to high risk probationers in order to successfully complete their term of probation and promote positive behavioral changes. Supervision guidelines shall include the following considerations:
 - a. Tailored to the risks, needs and strengths presented by the individual probationer as determined by the standardized assessment;
 - b. Supervision monitoring and intervention strategies are to involve no greater deprivations of liberty or property than are reasonably necessary to address sentencing purposes. Supervision programs, surveillance, and strategies that are utilized shall be the least intrusive means necessary to promote public safety and supervision goals;
 - c. Initial and subsequent supervision planning shall develop specific goal-directed objectives to be accomplished by the probationer during the term of supervision and the strategies that the officer will use to monitor compliance and promote the accomplishment of those objectives. Supervision contacts shall be integral to implementing the overall supervision strategies, have a purpose that is directly related to case objectives and the probationer's level and type of risk;
 - d. High risk cases require the concurrent implementation of multiple intervention strategies that apply the skills from a variety of disciplines to address the level and type of risk presented by the individual probationer, build on a probationer's strengths, and provide probationers with incentives to change;
 - e. Document changes in a probationer's circumstances throughout the period of probation and actively engage in assessing the impact of any changes on the level and type of supervision. Officers shall independently assess a probationer's circumstances through field and collateral contacts at a level proportional to the issues in the individual case;
 - f. Responses to noncompliance shall be timely, realistic and escalating; and shall include elements designed to both control and correct noncompliance; and
 - g. The intensity and frequency of supervision activities shall be reduced over time for stable, compliant probationers who are meeting their supervision objectives.
4. Supervision level I is reserved for probationers who assess as high risk on the standardized assessment or reassessment as well as newly sentenced probationers who assess as medium or low risk and shall include:
